expects to repair the track up to Ortiz by tomorrow. Gen. Huerta today received a report from Col. Arroyo, stating that he had taken the town of Batopilas, about 80 miles due west of here and an important pass in the mountains. Arroyo, who led a detachment of volunteers, declared that he took 20 prisoners, presumably the rebel garrison, and that several of the enemy were killed and wounded.

The significance of the move is that should the rebel army split up into small bands, they will find escape to the state of Sinaloa and the west coast cut off along these mountain passes. The government has detailed several companies of volunteers, familiar with the mountains, to hold the passes against guerrilla bands.

AMERICANS NO LONGER

Douglas, Ariz., July 21.—"Where American citizens formerly were respected as belonging to a great nation that would not hesitate to take their part should injury or insult be put upon them, Mexican rebels now laugh at Americans and place indignities upon them," is the statement of J. G. Amund, who has arrived here from Mazatlan, Sinaloa.

"No American is safe now in Sinaloa," said Amund. "I had a fine chicken ranch which was stripped of fowls. I had my horses stolen. I had to quit and so I came out. The manifesto issued by president Taft and then not backed up, is what did it. If the United States government had said nothing, we would have been far better treated. We, as a nation, used to be respected. Now they laugh at Americans and say they can do as they please for the gringos will not fight."

REBELS MAKE STAND AT BACHIMBA PASS

If Defeated, Will Not Fight in Chihuahua, But Scatter to Hills.

Bachimba, Mex., June 21.—The rebels have changed their minds about engaging the federals at Ortiz, 15 miles south, and are placing their cannon in position to await the advancing government troops here, as originally planned. A big detachment, however, was sent to Ortiz to harass the federals as they moved north and to destroy bridges. Eight bridges were blown up north of Ortiz, one of them being a big steel structure. On the rapidly with which the forces of Gen. Huerta can repair these is the hour of the big battle dependent. Bachimba, according to the rebel viewpoint, is an ideal place to make a stand against the enemy. Mountains flank both sides of the place and water and shade are plentiful.

Gen. Huerta's War.

Defeat by the federals in the approaching battle will mean incessant guerrilla warfare by the Mexican rebels, according to the declaration of Gen. Pascual Orozco. The rebel army in case of a reverse will be divided into numerous mobile bands, the heaviest under the immediate control of the commander-in-chief, who would also bear with him the state officials necessary for the establishment of the state capital at whatever place Gen. Orozco may encamp.

No Fight in Chihuahua.

Although confident that his forces will be able to withstand the government columns, Gen. Orozco outlined his policy to an Associated Press representative in case of defeat. Should the federals drive him back, he will make no effort to stand them off in the city of Chihuahua, he declared. "In the first place," explained Gen. Orozco, "the city of Chihuahua offers only slight opportunities for defense. Secondly, I would not care to remember that I was responsible for the destruction of property and the loss of innocent life, two things which, doubtless, would be results of a bombardment of the city. So far as the sacking of Chihuahua by the rebel troops is concerned, I do not fear it. They would remain under control of their officers. I believe, and certainly everything possible would be done to maintain order up to the moment we abandoned the place. To the foreign residents, we will give every protection, but I do not believe they would incur any danger, at least, not until after the evacuation."

No Fighting Immediately.

Rebel scouting parties returning today reported that Gen. Huerta's vanguard, numbering 800 cavalry, under

TRAIN DELAYED BY TROOP MOVEMENT OF REBELS

The Mexican Central passenger train from Chihuahua, Thursday night was delayed several hours in Chihuahua and did not arrive in Juarez until after 11 o'clock. The cause of the delay, passengers said, was due to the taking of the equipment for use on the division south of Chihuahua which is hauling soldiers between Chihuahua and Bachimba.

VASQUISTAS WANT TO REMOVE OROZCO

Supporters of Emilio Vasquez Gomez today issued a proclamation denouncing Gen. Pascual Orozco. They made public the correspondence in which Orozco is alleged to have first invited Gomez to become provisional president and then repudiated him. The "Vasquistas" call upon the members of the revolutionary party to forsake Orozco and court martial him for his "traitorous deeds." They suggest the naming of a new chief to continue the revolution against the Madero government.
